MILO PLAMANEZ SUMMONED BY GRIM REAPER

PIONEER RESIDENT OF SOUTH-ERN NEVADA PASSES AWAY AT MANHATTAN.

Milo Plamanez died at Manhattan Saturday night after an illness of about six weeks, and was buried in this city at 1:30 o'clock today. Death was due to pneumonia, although Mr. Plamanez made a hard fight, the inevitable came, and he passed away Saturday night.

Mr. Plamanez came to Tonopah at the inception of this camp and was interested in the resort saloon on Main street. During the boom at Silver Bow he acquired large holdings at that place, and when the rush started for Manhattan he was one of the first on the ground and has stuck by the camp through prosperity and adversity and has probably done as much as any one man to develop the Pine Tree district, his leasing on the Union No. 9 proving the merits of the Dexter property and the existence of high grade ore. At times, during the stringency of money, Plamanez was about the only leaser working in Manhattan.

Milo Plamanez had many friends in Southern Nevada, where he has resided since 1886, first taking up his residence at Candelaria. Mike Plamanez, a brother, resided here for a good many years, but is now living in Austria.

Deceased's last request was that he be buried in Tonopah alongside his nephew, Frank Plamanez, who met death in the Belmont disaster.

He leaves to mourn his demise a wife and two step children.

At this week's session of the Elko board of commissioners a resolution was passed to ask the state revenue board for permission to borrow $40,000. The reason for having to borrow the money is the unusual expense to which Elko county has been put by the Tuscarora arson case.

The Carson News has the following to say in regard to the wedding:

Complete Conference On the Wool Bill Has Been Reported to the House for Its Final Action.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—Tariff revision legislation moved swiftly onward in congress Saturday toward the expected presidential veto.

The complete conference agreement on the wool bill was reported to the house with a view to final action in that body through adoption of the conference report today.

The free list bill, discussed in committee as a matter subsidiary to the wool measure, was agreed to, as were its two chief amendments, the house amendment adding lemons to the free list and Kern senate amendment limiting free meat and cereal products to those countries from which the United States have reciprocal trade arrangements. All its other amendments were completed. This disagreement will be reported to both houses today with a view to another vote in the senate on the Kern amendment and in the house on the wool bill.

The cotton bill was discussed without action in the senate. Democratic leaders said Saturday the adjournment of congress would come within a week or ten days.

There was little argument in conference over the free list amendments. Chairman Underwood of the house conference committee declared the house could not accept the Kern amendments, which were injected into the bill after the original free list bill had been lost by a tie vote in the senate. Senator Bailey said the senate would not approve the lemon amendment, although he himself favored it. On the motion of Mr. Underwood the conference committee agreed to the senate amendments putting binders, cement and all kinds of boots and shoes on the free list; and instructed that a disagreement on the other amendments be reported to the house and senate today.

The result will be to force another vote in the senate on the Kern amendments and in the house on the lemon amendment. Following such action, the bill will probably again go to conference and an agreement on it is confidently predicted.

Over the objection of the republicans, the house Saturday received the conference report on the wool tariff revision bill and ordered it printed, preparatory to a vote today. Minority Leader Mann objected to the house receiving the report, making the point of order that the house having asked for the conference and the senate having agreed to it, the senate must act upon the report of the conference first. Speaker Clark overruled the point and was sustained in that action by a party vote of 162 to 89.

The vote was preceded by a long technical debate, in which Democratic Leader Underwood and Representative Henry of Texas and Fitzgerald of New York defended the action of the house conferees. Republican Leader Mann, ex-Speaker Cannon and Representative Cooper of Wisconsin, argued in favor of the point of order.

The fight in the house was largely a question of "who has the papers?" although they were, in the possession of the house. Minority Leader Mann insisted that the senate, as the body "agreeing to the conference" should first act on the wool conference report. The senate voted to accept the report, however, but to avoid a repetition of the performance on the free list bill, Mr. Underwood, before the conclusion of the free list conference, smiled at his senatorial colleagues across the table and said:

"Now, you take the papers."

The wool bill conference report will be printed and ready for adoption in the house today. It is expected the bill will be ready for the signature or the veto of the president Tuesday.

When the cotton bill was taken up in the senate, Senator Cummins presented his amendments for the revision of the iron and steel schedules of the tariff law.

Notwithstanding the desire of the democrats to secure action on the cotton bill at this session, it is believed that the congress will not hold together for that purpose after final action is taken on either or both of the other tariff bills. Definite action by the president and an attempt to pass a bill over his veto will be followed, it is expected, by an immediate demand for adjournment, leaving the cotton bill still pending.

MONTANA TEAM HAS BEEN CHALLENGED FOR TUG-OF-WAR

Belmont Team Wants to Meet the Winners of the Last Contest—Manhattan Wants a Try at the Same Aggregation.

The Montana tug-of-war team has been challenged for another contest. This time it is a team to be known as the Belmont, and is under the management of C. L. Theuerkauf. The Belmonts have $200 to put up for forfeit money and are ready to draw up agreements. Captain Evans says that the Montanas are ready to meet any team in the state, and it is safe to say that this challenge of the Belmonts will be accepted upon the part of the Montanas. Two men who pulled with the Montana team against the Slavonians have left, Jack West being one of them. Manhattan is also after the scalp of the Montana team and the Post of that city says that the merchants of that place will put up a purse of $250, and as big a side bet as the Montanas want to cover. Things are picking up in tug-of-war, and it looks as if Tonopah will witness some interesting contests.

Awakened by the eloquence of Judas Maccabees, Asaiah tries to win his love, fails, and arranges for the destruction of himself and family. MINA RESIDENCE IS DYNAMITED

EXPLOSIVE IS PLACED IN RANGE
IN THE HOME OF JACOB REUDY.

MINA, Nev., Aug. 14.—An attempt was made at 8 o'clock Saturday morning to blow up the residence of Jacob Reudy. A stick of dynamite had been placed in the kitchen stove by unknown persons, and when it exploded the kitchen was wrecked, but the balance of the building escaped injury. Nobody was injured, although two people had narrow escapes.

The kitchen range had not been used for some time as Mrs. Reudy is visiting in Lone, Cal. An Indian squaw came to the house the same morning for the purpose of doing some washing. She started a fire in the range and placed a boiler of water on the stove. She had hardly left the kitchen when the dynamite exploded with a roar. The stove was shattered to small bits, while the rear part of the building was wrecked. The prompt arrival of neighbors saved the building from destruction by fire.

Frank Ford, a deputy sheriff, was sleeping in the front of the residence and escaped uninjured.

Jacob Reudy, the owner of the house, was working when the explosion occurred. No reason is known for the placing of the dynamite stick in the range, as Reudy has no enemies here, as far as can be ascertained.
